

Power Transmission
Module

eTS Solutions Ltd has spent two years working in the Power Transmission Distributor environment combining and adding to the Microsoft Great Plains Business Management Software to give tailored functionality which addresses the needs of this industry. The eTS Power Transmission Module builds on the core processes to allow the relevant information to always be available to make the sale.

The Power Transmission Module fully caters for different manufacturers whether using the same and/or different Part numbers without any loss of control of individual stock items.

Equivalent Bearings, Chain etc are grouped together in a user definable catalogue and any group can be found immediately from any part number within that group whether similar or completely different

The catalogue can hold multiple levels to allow groups within groups. Allowing Staff to be able to navigate through the Catalogue from general description and follow a tree structure down to a specific bearing, providing an excellent method of tracking down more obscure items.

Key benefits

- Improved Matching of Stock to Client Needs
- Improved stock usage
- Better margin control
- More complete stock control

The catalogue is linked to but independent of the stock file, giving total flexibility in how and why groups are made and this can be enhanced to include attributes to globally select a subset of your stock file. Navigation to item records, available to promise as well as item specifications can all be achieved from the one screen, making response times quicker and reducing the chance of errors.

The eTS approach eTS has an experienced team that knows the only way for IT Systems to succeed is to listen. We see Information Technology as a tool for your business, we believe that software should change to fit your business not the business to change to fit the software. Our success is reflected through our client's success of implementing the right solution. We hope we can do the same for you.
